The Week in Oxford County

Justice Albert Belliveau of Rumford was honored at a dinner in Portland February 10 by fellow justices and their wives. Justice Belliveau will retire from the Supreme Court of Maine next month. He was named to the position which he now holds by Gov. Burton M. Cross.

Miss Jane Fournier of Hancock Street, Rumford, was crowned queen of the annual Children's Club winter carnival with coronation Saturday evening at the Rumford Armory.

Harold D. Stevens, 84, of North Paris, apparently died of a heart attack last Monday.

A body was found by a road crew in his car, in the Morse Hill section. He is survived by his widow, two sons and two daughters, a brother and a sister, also grandchildren. The annual mid-winter meeting for Androscoggin, Oxford and Kennebec orchardists was held at Buckfield Grange hall Tuesday. Dinner was served by the extension service. Speakers included, Dr. Leo Boulanger, assistant entomologist, Dr. Merle T. Hillhouse, plant pathologist, and Rudolph Poray, Extension Service fruit specialist.

The boiler at the grade school in Dixfield exploded Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-five of the 200 youngsters from the primary to the fourth grade were shaken up. No injuries were reported. Rep. Merrier expected classes to resume on Wednesday.

The annual winter carnival of the Oxford County United Parish will take place Feb. 27. The evening program will be a musical variety show. Crooked River Outing Club sponsors the event.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The copy for the town report is now in the hands of our local printer. It is anticipated that the reports will be ready for distribution about Feb. 18th or 20th.

The warrant will be posted in a few days for the annual town meeting. The meeting will be held on March 3rd, opening at 10:00 a. m. The polls will open for the balloting for town officers upon the order of the moderator immediately after his election. They will remain open until 8:00 p. m. The balloting will take place at the Community Room, the business session will open at 8:00 p. m. at Odeon Hall.

The office hours are 9:00 a. m. to 12 noon and 1:00 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. If it is impossible for anyone to come in during these hours to pay their 1958 excise tax, arrangements may be made ahead of time by appointment to come in before 9:00 a. m. or between 4:30 and 5:00 p. m.

There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the minimum excise tax beginning with the sixth year of a model. It is not necessarily $5.00. The law states that the excise tax for the sixth year and each year thereafter shall be three mills of the factory list price, but no less than $5.00. Any vehicle that has a factory list price of over $1,000.00 will be greater than $5.00. For example, a vehicle listing for $2,000.00 the tax would be $6.00.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

$785.57

SAFETY EXHIBIT VISITS BETHUEL ON STATE TOUR

Students of Gould Academy were given a most realistic lesson showing the effects of speed in automobile driving last Thursday when "Operation Speed" exhibit sponsored by the Maine Highway Safety Committee was displayed on the campus.

This exhibit featured a car in which its 17 year old driver met death last October 15 at Westbrook. A 16 year old passenger was seriously injured. So severe was the crash that it took an hour and forty minutes to remove the body of the driver and the injured person. The car traveled 194 feet after leaving the road before hitting a tree.

The trailer-mounted exhibit, which is making a tour of the state through the cooperation of 50 motor carriers, was accompanied here by Trooper Herman Boudreau. Mr. Boudreau spoke before the student body and showed many gruesome pictures of motor accidents throughout the state.

As the result of his talk, plans were begun for the formation of a Youth Council by the students. An organized in other schools, these council work actively in promotion of safe driving practices, have committees to care for parking and pedestrians and make needed surveys. They also have a member to represent the school on the Governor's Safety Committee.

Jo Ann Perry celebrated her eighth birthday on Friday with a party at her home after school. Games with prizes were enjoyed and refreshments including a decorated Valentine cake, were enjoyed. Present were Patty Saunders, Nancy Chapin, Charles Brown, Cynthia Crockett, Karen Brown and Jo Ann Perry. Invited but unable to attend were Betty Chapin, Darlene Merrill and Sylvia Kimball.

BETHUEL WOMEN TO CONDUCT DAY OF PRAYER SERVICE

The Protestant church women of Bethel are uniting to conduct the Worship Service in observance of the annual World Day of Prayer. It is to be held this year at the Bethel Methodist Church on Friday, Feb. 21, at 3:30 o'clock. All the women of Bethel and the surrounding communities are invited to attend.

The combined Junior Choirs of West Parish Congregational Church and the Bethel Methodist Church will provide special music under the direction of Mrs. John Tebbets. A nursery, under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Keniston, will be conducted in the Church Annex during the service so that mothers with small children may have the opportunity to attend.

Following the World Day of Prayer Service, a social hour will be held during which refreshments will be served. It is hoped that as many women as possible will take the opportunity to share in this annual event.

The Great Book Discussion Group will meet Monday night, Feb. 17, at 8 o'clock at the home of Vance Richardson. All that are interested are invited to attend. The book for the evening is "All the King's Men" by Robert Penn Warren.

Bethel Area Development Corporation Organized --- Seek Membership For Promotion of Community Interests

Howard W. Cole, local insurance executive, and State Representative Addison C. Saunders, of the Hanover Dowel Co., were elected this week to the offices of President and Vice President, respectively, of the newly-formed Bethel Area Development Corporation under the sponsorship of the local Chamber of Commerce. Other officers elected at the organization meeting were Edmond J. Vachon, Treasurer, and Guy P. Butler, Secretary. Mr. Vachon is President of the Bethel Savings Bank and Associate Headmaster of Gould Academy. Mr. Butler is Owner-Manager of the Bethel Inn and former Executive Manager of the Maine Publicity Bureau.

In addition to the officers, the following local business and professional men were elected to the Board of Directors: Kimball Ames, Philip H. Chadbourne, Charles S. Chapin, Richard L. Davis, Stanley E. Davis, Dana C. Douglass, Jr., Henry H. Hastings, Charles E. Heywood, Murray W. Thurston, Dr. John W. Trinward, and E. A. Van Den Kerkhofen.

As set forth in the Charter which was adopted at the meeting of the incorporators, the purpose of the Corporation is "to foster, encourage and assist the location, settlement, resettlement, or expansion of industry, manufacturing and other business, educational or cultural enterprises in the Town of Bethel and its environs." It is a non-profit Corporation, organized under the provisions of Chapter 64 of the Revised Statutes of 1954, and it will be largely dependent upon the financial support of its members for a healthy and aggressive furtherance of its program. From the legal standpoint, it will comply in every presently-known respect with the requirements for recognition of local development corporations as set forth in the laws creating the recently appointed Maine Industrial Building Authority which has again focused attention on the State of Maine as a pioneer in the field of economic development.

One of the first projects to be undertaken by the Corporation will be the completion of a survey of Bethel's industrial potential which was initiated some time ago by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

ACROSS the DESK

From The Catholic Morning Star, Washington, New York: The difference between life in the Soviet Union and life in this great country of ours is like night and day. Although we grip about taxation, politics, and other things, we can be thankful to be Americans. We people in the Soviet Union have had it so good, been so prosperous and so much more than that.

Just suppose that the United States defaulted on its bonds and announced that no further interest would be paid on them, nor would they be redeemed for the next 20 years. This would, no doubt, come very near to provoking a revolution.

At the very least, the administration in office during such a crisis would be swept out of power at the earliest possible moment. And how the Russians would capitalize on this breakdown of the world's greatest capitalist economy.

Yet Russia detailed in this very way. Apparently the upheavals in Poland and Hungary mean that they no longer send to the Soviet the needed products that they need to live an actual state on Russian economic and resources. The huge military structure is also a contributing factor.

This drastic step must cause great discontent and makes it even more unlikely that Russia will embark on a war with the United States. We should not lower our guard, however, as the Soviets would attack tomorrow if they thought they could get away with it and suffer no retaliation.

From The Dearborn Independent, Dearborn, Michigan: Buck Rogers has jumped from the comic strip into reality, wearing a Kremlin insignia—to launch an earth satellite.

As long ago as last February, Edward Teller, one of the chief developers of the H-bomb, stated flatly, "Within ten years the Soviets will have the best scientists in the world..." and their launching of the satellite certainly gives added weight to this prophecy.

While brilliant graduates of schools in Russia are made national heroes, asked to speak at celebrations, enter teaching or basic research fields and are lavished with rewards, we deprive our scientists of prestige incentives. Frequently look down at the teaching profession and many times offer too little compensation in the pure science field.

We need a reexamination of our technological programs in order to regain our creative and inventive leadership.

Hour Washington Report

Congressman
ROBERT HALE

Trip to Maine—I hope to be in Maine when this appears to print for at least a two-day visit over the next few days. During that time I shall call on many towns as possible to discuss problems and problems with my constituents. I only wish that Washington were closer to Maine, so that I could spend more time in the state.

Walter Pay National in an effort to offer a contribution of Navy equipment to the Maine Department of Defense and Maine Armed Forces Committee to undertake immediate studies.

Secretary of Navy Affairs announced last April 1957 that such a study to make and I have learned that the Defense Department will have an armed Forces committee working on the study.

SEN. PAYNE REPORTS

Maine Potato Week

This week is the third annual Maine Potato Week. The State of Maine leads the world in the production of high quality potatoes, and as we all know this crop plays an extremely important role in our State's economy. It is particularly appropriate that we set aside a week each year to promote our Maine potatoes throughout the Nation.

Senator Smith and I opened a Maine potato display at one of Washington's leading department stores last week and to kick-off Maine potato promotional activities in the Washington area. The Maine potatoes on sale in the stores down here this year are some of the best I have ever seen.

The Explorer

For almost two weeks now we have all been encouraged by the steady hum of the Explorer, our Nation's first space satellite, contributing to man's effort to reach out and understand the World's newest frontier—outer space.

The Explorer is indeed a significant accomplishment, but it represents only the very beginning of efforts most vital to America's defense and future progress. These recent steps into outer space can well be compared with the first voyage of Columbus to the New World. Just as his discovery led the way to new concepts of the World which greatly affected the course of history, our exploration of outer space is already beginning to contribute valuable information regarding the universe which will almost certainly have effects on the course of future history that are beyond the scope of man's imagination today.

The dominating feature of the second Vanguard launching last week is a useful reminder that the Explorer is only the very beginning of our efforts. Reaching the International Space Station and planetary exploration in terms of defense, scientific, international prestige and scientific development, but such the Senate voted to establish a special 11-member Committee on Astronautics and Space Exploration to develop a sound program to guide the Nation in its efforts on the frontiers of the future.

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Psalm 121.

I lift up my eyes to the hills. From whence does my help come? My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. (Psalm 121:1, 2. RSV).

For years the promising young musician had studied under a master violinist. There had been long, long hours of practicing and many sacrifices. At last the hour arrived for his first recital in the great hall. Thousands of people came to hear him. Even the balconies were filled.

When the thrilling recital ended, long lines of people tried to congratulate the young man. One man said to him, "Your music truly lifted my soul. It was deeply inspiring. But I am curious about one thing. Why did you keep your eyes always turned toward the second balcony?"

The young violinist replied, "My master was up there. I kept looking toward him because when I saw a smile on his face, I knew my master was well pleased."

It is well to look to Christ, the Master. How splendid to live that we bring a smile to His face!

Prayer
O Lord, when we forget Thee, have compassion upon us. Bring to our remembrance Christ's love for us. Help us to set our affection upon things above. Teach us to do Thy will and possess faith that triumphs over worry so that we may have Thy smile of approval. In Christ's name. Amen.

Thought For The Day
"Thy face, Lord, will I seek."

Children's Dental Care Duty of Parents

When statistics show that 50% of the New England population have or have had dental decay that 50% of all two year olds have or have had carious teeth, who's to blame? The New England Dairy and Food Council puts the blame on diet and the lack of dental care and suggests a three-point check list to encourage children to care for their teeth.

Cooperating with the American Dental Association during Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 2-8, New England Dairy and Food Council urges youngsters and parents alike to help prevent dental disease by eating wholesome foods including fresh vegetables and dairy products, brushing the teeth after meals, and visiting the dentist regularly.

"It's up to parents to impress upon their children the importance of sound dental care, and using a three-point check list is an effective measure in making this impression," says a Dairy Council Home Economist. "Take a large piece of paper and divide it into columns for each day of the month, leaving a wide column at the left for listing 1) good diet, 2) brushing after meals, and 3) regular visits to the dentist. At the end of the day, give the child a star or a check for each task well done, including visiting the dentist about every six months."

But remember that it takes more than a game to make cleaning the teeth a pleasure rather than a chore. "If a toothbrush, tooth paste, and the right foods are not easily accessible," says the Dairy Council, "make them available and within the child's reach. A small stool in the bathroom for reaching for parents."

HALE SEEKS SMALL BUSINESS AID

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT HALE (R., Maine), right, met recently with Wendell Barnes, head of the Small Business Administration, to discuss aid to small business in Maine. Barnes said small business loans to Maine in 1957 amounted to $1.5 million, an increase of $1 million over the previous year. Hale has introduced legislation to make the Small Business Administration a permanent agency, provide tax benefits for small business and authorize low-interest loans in areas of persistent unemployment.

MAN'S RECIPE

BACON-FLAVORED SCALLOPED CORN

Did you know that corn is a grass? Do you appreciate that it is the most important grass crop in the nation and that corn and its by-products are used in scores of ways in industry?

When I was a boy, we always raised an acre or so of field corn. Father figured a bushel of 40 bushels was satisfactory and it was close enough. Today, yields of 100 bushels with hybrid seed, are common. The average ear of corn has about 400 kernels. To feed no hybrid corn was grown to win the Middle West it is practically 100 per cent hybrid. About 25 per cent of the corn we grow comes to our tables in the form of milk, eggs, butter, cheese, pork and beef.

I like today's dish for supper on a cold night. You need one pound of corn, a small green pepper, a small onion, six strips crisp fried bacon, three fourths cup bread crumbs, one egg slightly beaten, three fourths cup rich milk, salt and pepper to suit, crumbs for the topping and butter or margarine to dot the top.

Wash the corn and remove from husk, and when cool break into small pieces. Wash the pepper, core out two small pieces and fry it and the sliced onion in two tablespoons bacon fat.

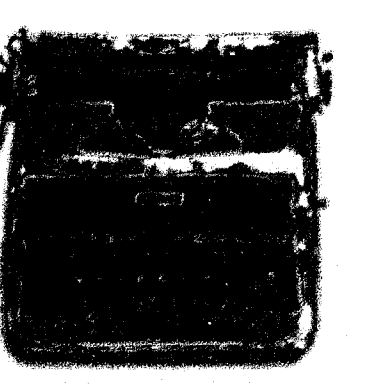

To the pepper and onion, add the corn, bread crumbs, beaten egg, milk, salt, pepper and butter or margarine. Mix everything together and pour into a buttered casserole.

Cover with a layer of butter or margarine, dot with plenty of butter or margarine and bake at 375° for 14 minutes in a deep dish. and crumbs are a deep brown.

MAGALLOWAY

Mrs. Jessie Harvey, Correspondent
 About a foot of wet snow came Friday night and Saturday, causing a lot of plowing and shoveling. The Magalloway plow went from 1 a. m. until 7 p. m. on Saturday.

Louis Olson had a bad spell last week, but is feeling some better at present.

A truck loaded with hardwood pulp blew a tire and went over a snow bank and into the river just above the Magalloway bridge last Monday. The truck was hauling wood for the Brown Co. from Lincoln Pond. Mark Harvey pulled it from the river with his bulldozer on Sunday.

Miss Martha Bennett took her mother to Rangely Friday for medical treatment. Mrs. Bennett is not very well.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gilman spent Sunday afternoon with her cousin, Mrs. Mabel Cameron.

Charles Travers worked at Joseph Mooney's Sunday shoveling snow.

Due to Robert Farn's illness Alfred Hart is helping Ewen Cameron with the snowplow.

Mrs. Ellis Olson and her daughter, Leslie, went to Bethel Monday. Mrs. Olson for medical treatment and Leslie for glasses.

Miss Lillian Harvey is ill with a sore throat.

The ballots have arrived for a special election on March 10.

See you now in The CITIZEN.

GOULD ACADEMY

St. Pat's Takes Gould 64-62

Despite holding a commanding lead throughout three periods the Gould Academy quintet was nosed out 64-62 by a St. Patrick's rally in the fourth quarter. The winners put together a 17-5 final stanza to do the job. The Huskies missed 9 out of 11 free throws in this last period. Both teams scored 12 from the free throw line with the New Hampshire club missing 11 while Gould failed on 17 attempts.

St. Pat's had four men scoring in double figures. Whitten (30) and Smith (18) led the Academy five.

The Gould J.V.'s opened the festivities with a 49-28 victory. The underdogs put on a strong final period, scoring 20 points while the St. Pat's J.V.'s scored 8.

tration during the six months ending December 31, 1957, reports Elwyn R. Morrow, the agency's county supervisor.

Repayments during the same period on loans previously made totaled $132,897, and were made primarily from the sale of milk and poultry products.

Mr. Morrow said the heaviest demand for Farmers Home Administration credit has been to finance cows, machinery and poultry operations.

PLANS AND RECORDS IMPORTANT

Thoroughly prepared farm and home plans, together with well kept records of the year's farm income and expenses, are important factors when it comes to getting the greatest possible benefit out of Farmers Home Administration loan funds and farm income. That's the opinion of Elwyn R. Morrow, the agency's county supervisor who, in addition to lending money to family-type farmers for operating, buying, enlarging or improving farms, spends much of his time advising with loan applicants and borrowers about their plans for better farming, farm and home bookkeeping, and money management.

SCHOOL NEWS

GRADE 4: Miss Ballard, Mrs. King. This month in history we are studying about famous men and important events. Some of us are making models.

Lowell School made the Valentine box in Mrs. King's room. We are looking forward to a Valentine party on Friday afternoon.

GRADE 5: Miss Varner. We have a display of pictures and stories about Abraham Lincoln and we are his sibilants.

Our class is planning a Valentine party. Jonathan Stowell and Douglas Base are co-chairmen. The committee, Linda Paine, Charlene Swain and Jonathan Stowell have made a very pretty Valentine box.

In English we are studying about nouns and adjectives. We wish everyone a very pleasant St. Valentine's day.

Reporter, Irving York. Grade 6: Doris Lord. Mrs. Janet Richardson visited on Wednesday morning and spoke on "Mexico." This is an annual visit and we look forward to it with pleasure.

She brought many beautiful articles as did many of the pupils. Mrs. Lord contributed a large part of the exhibit as she and her family visited Mexico last summer.

Last Friday afternoon we enjoyed a dance party in honor of Richard Fraser, who left for Tucson, Arizona, last Tuesday.

We are planning a Valentine Party for Friday afternoon. Christine Stevens and Sheila Gilbert are co-chairmen. Others on the committee are: Corey Brown, Michael Wheeler, Robert Parker, Ralph Jackson, Barbara Martin, Elmer 10-Charley Rounds (F) 225.85. Girls' A. A. News by Ruth Willard. The volleyball game between the winning girls team and the women's faculty was played Thursday, January 20. The occasion found many spectators present—most of them cheering for the faculty! Several times the faculty was ahead, but the girls came through with the victory.

We certainly appreciate having teachers who are such good sports and wish them better luck next year.

UPTON

— Mrs. C. A. Jenkins, Corres. —
One application for membership was presented at the regular Grange meeting held at the home of C. A. Jenkins, Saturday evening, Feb. 8. The lecturer's program included a reading by Fred Jenkins II on Gen. Washington; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by C. A. Jenkins; and a recitation, "The Haunted House," by Larry Hansen, the same being the one he delivered at the Junior Class speaking contest at Stephens High School recently.

The last five weeks have brought us plenty of snow. Fortunately all January was very warm. Now the night temperatures are a little below zero.

The school children are all practicing for the Carnival to be held at Errol, N. H., next Sat.

The Grange antique tournament is under way. There is still time for others to join if they wish.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Lavalley and two sons, Laurent and Wilfred, were called to New York State by the death of Mr. Lavalley's father.

The P. T. A. meeting was held at the home of C. A. Jenkins Monday evening, February 10th with twelve members present. C. A. Jenkins furnished the literary program after the business meeting, and Mrs. Jenkins served refreshments.

Tax on Cats

Dear Editor:

Would you please print this piece in your paper in regards to the half starved, cold and frozen strays?

It is getting so that it is not safe to go out onto your back porch day or night for fear of a stray cat jumping out of your rubber barrels and landing in your face, or on your back. When it is ten, 12, or 20 below zero. How would the owner of these cats love to be out in the snow. It is true that cats have a warm pelt, so has man but at least when night comes they know they have a shelter in which to go.

I have bought milk, cat and dog food to feed these cats, and this last week I took a little female cat in and kept it down cellar for two days near the furnace where it could be warm. The cat was sick with pneumonia.

I phoned one of the Town officials, who agreed with everything I said, but was told if it was a dog case there was money allotted to have it taken care of. He and I both agreed that there should be a humane officer here in Bethel, also outside of Bethel to handle such matters, but I say if there is one appointed be sure he is an honest capable one who will not turn these cats out on a back road and drop them for some else to find.

It is 20 below zero this morning. I wonder where the strays sleep. I know where one of them the old cat slept. If there is a Heaven for cats who is there because I paid $4.00 to get her out of her cage, which I could ill afford, but my conscience is clear.

If a poor family has a pet dog and a little child loves, as all children and the tax is not paid, what happens? But the poor defenseless puppies can roam and starve. Oh yes recently, a cat was found dead in a building which was closed. Do you need proof?

Why not put in for a vote at the coming town meeting on paying taxes on the felines? We're behind in 100 per cent.

Signed: Virgie McMillan
